VOLUME IV NUMBER 420 LA CROSSE WISCONSIN, FRIDAY, APRIL 24, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS

LICENSE OF WELL KNOWN EPISCOPAL RECTOR REVOKED

REV. ROBERT COTTON BARRED FROM FUTURE SERVICE

IS CHARGED WITH HERESY

Practical Repitition of Crapsey Case in Case of Prominent Minnesota Rector 67 Years Old

MINNEAPOLIS, April 24.—After 40 years of service as a minister of the Episcopal church in England and the United States, Rev. Robert Cotton today was denied license to preach in the diocese of Minnesota by Bishop S. C. Edsall. The withdrawal of the license amounts practically to excommunication and bars Cotton, who is 67, from every Episcopal pulpit in the world. Cotton is a follower of Dr. A. S. Crapsey of Rochester, N. Y., who was excommunicated a year ago for heresy, according to Bishop Edsall, who says this alone is sufficient grounds for the revocation of his license. Cotton admits that for the past four years he has preached that the virgin birth of Christ and the theory of the resurrection are untrue. The resurrection he calls a "beautiful fairy story." Today Cotton declares he has no recourse and is compelled to abide by the bishop's decision without a hearing or an ecclesiastical trial. "The church is a great trust," he said. "It doesn't want thinkers and the world has gone forth all over the world to bar all persons with advanced ideas on religion." Cotton said he expects to be excommunicated, and he will be forced to solicit among outside congregations to gain a livelihood. For eleven years he was rector of Trinity church at Fort Worth, Texas. He has been prominent in church work in the northwest for a quarter of a century and has built three churches in Minnesota. Churchmen are looking for a repetition of the Crapsey case.

ITALIAN CARS WIN RACE AND PLACE IN REMARKABLE CONTEST FOR THE LAW CUP AT BRIAR CLIFF TODAY

ISOTTA TAKES THE CUP IN FAST CLIP

CEBRINO IS SECOND OVER 30-MILE CIRCUIT

SOME EARLY CASUALTIES

Numerous Small Accidents Mar the Race and One Death from Heart Disease Results

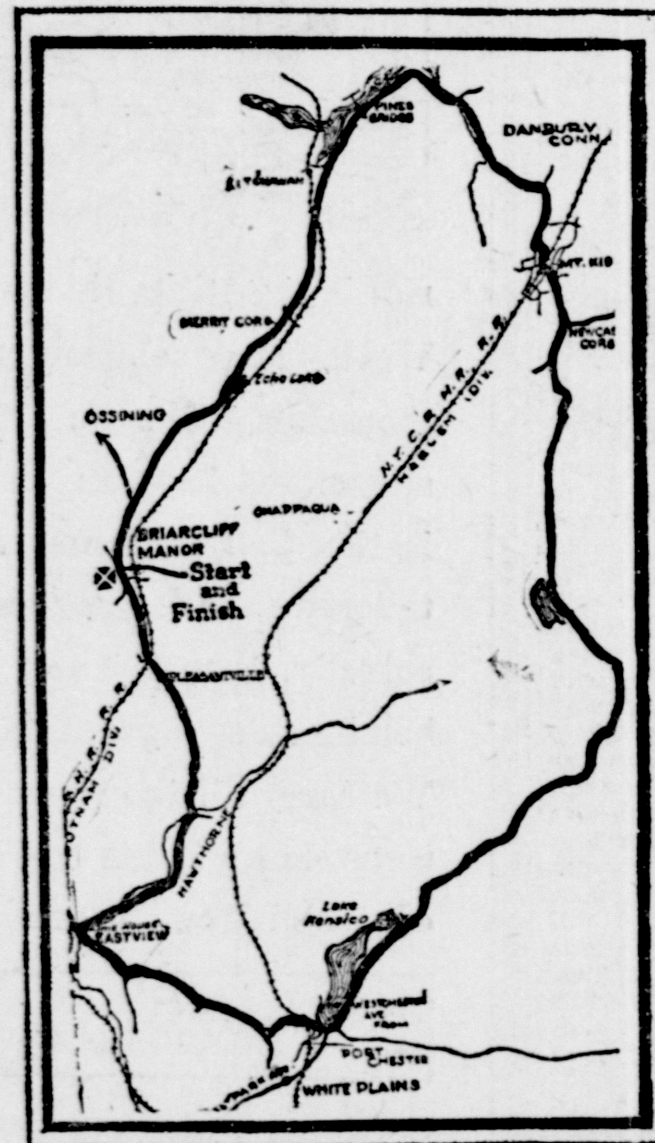

Briarcliff Race for Law Cup. Course—Three hundred miles over 30-mile circuit, ten laps. Start—4:45 a. m., at Briarcliff Manor. Cars start at one-minute intervals. Entrants—Twenty-two stock cars, 14 different makes. Trophy—Walter W. Law cup. Finish—At Briarcliff Manor.

BRIAR CLIFF, April 24.—(Bulletin.)—Strang, driving the Isotta, the Italian car, won the auto race. Cedrino, driving the Italian Fiat car, was second. Strang's time was 5:14:13 1-5, official.

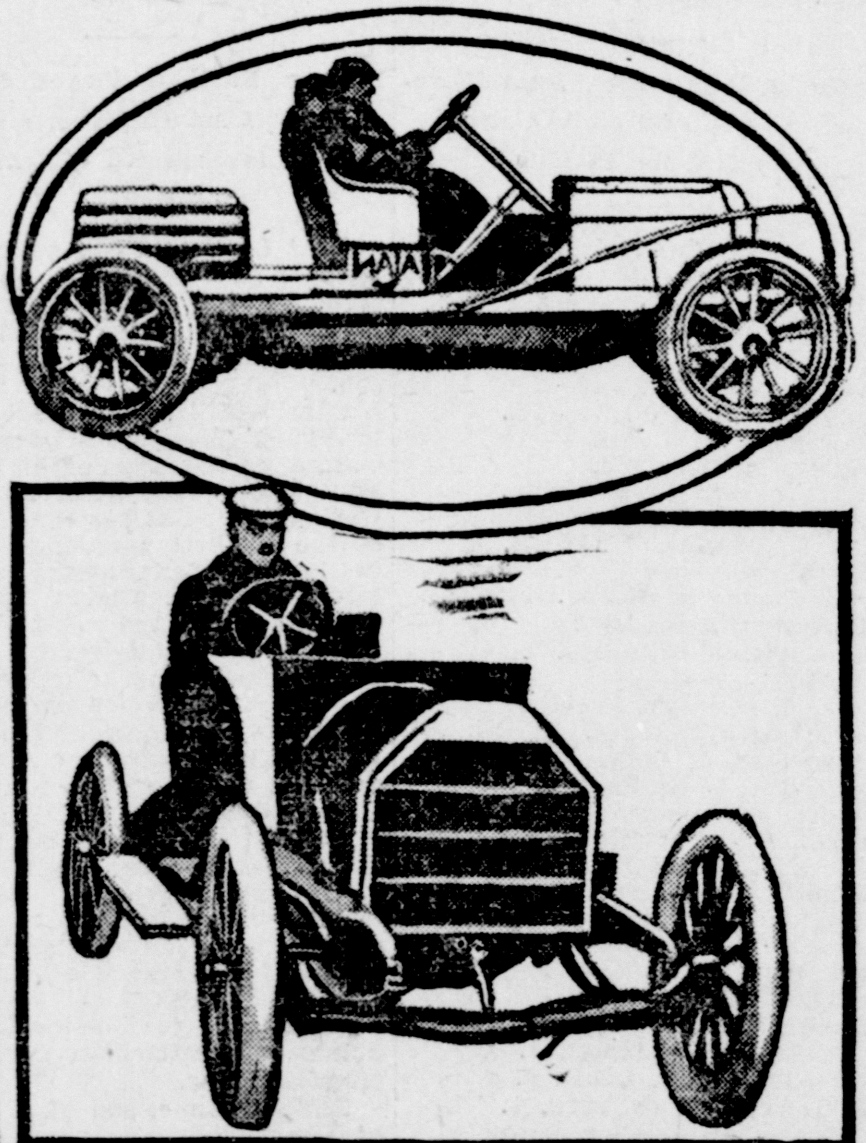

BRIAR CLIFF, April 24.—Taking the lead in the first lap both on the time allowance and as to position, Lewis Strang, driving the 50 H. P. Isotta, won the 256 mile race for the Briar Cliff cup in the splendid time of 5 hours, 14 minutes, 13 and 1-5 seconds. Cedrino, the favorite, made a desperate drive at the finish and cut down Strang's lead in great slices, but the best he was able to do was to finish second with his 60 H. P. Fiat car in 5 hours, 21 minutes, 52 seconds. Vaughan, driving a Stearns, finished third in 5:28:29. Not an ambulance was used, despite the great fears that had been expressed of disastrous smash-ups owing to the roughness and crookedness of the course, there wasn't a single serious accident. Perfect weather conditions were responsible for the record breaking speed.

The Start. It was exactly 5:07 when starter Fred Wagner sent Sarteri in the Bianci car away and started the great auto race for the Briar Cliff

ASSASSINS MAY HAVE CAUSED WAR

GUATEMALAN PRESIDENT SUSPECTS HONDURAS

MINISTER IS IN HIDING

Representatives of Latter Disappeared After Twenty-four Executions Have Been Announced

CITY OF MEXICO, April 24.—Fighting is threatened between Guatemala and Honduras, according to semi-official information from both countries, over the recent attempt upon the life of Cabrera. The Guatemalan president is known from the first to have suspected the Honduran government in the assassination plot, but the seriousness of the situation was not appreciated until it became known that Dr. Bustillo, the Honduran minister at Guatemala City, has actually gone into hiding. The president is making less vigorous efforts to find Bustillo—whom he is understood to regard as no more than an intermediary, possibly an innocent one so far as his knowledge of the murder conspiracy is concerned—than to wrest from his prisoners evidence which will enable him to definitely fasten the responsibility upon more important Honduran officials. Cabrera has notified the foreign diplomatic representatives that in all twenty-four men have been executed since the attempt on his life, and it is believed more executions are contemplated.

SUICIDE FOLLOWS A CRUEL MURDER

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., April 24.—While his wife and two daughters lay asleep, Lewis Fleckenstein, a wealthy German resident, entered their bedroom early today with a hatchet and almost scalped his wife. He then went down stairs and hanged himself. The woman was rushed to the hospital, where it is said the chances for her recovery are slight. The children were awakened by their father striking their mother over the head. Screaming they threw themselves across the body pleading with the father to spare their mother's life. Fleckenstein threw them aside and struck his wife another blow. Then taking the children in his arms he kissed them good bye and going into the kitchen ended his own life.

TORNADO DESTROYS A WHOLE VILLAGE

ST. LOUIS, April 24.—Walls, Mississippi, is reported wiped off the map by a tornado which struck that town early this morning. Three persons are reported killed and three injured. Relief trains are being sent from Memphis. At Fort Arbuckle, Okla., five Kickapoo Indians were killed in a cloud burst late yesterday afternoon, which did great damage. Dakota is hit. YANKTON, S. D., April 24.—Thirty buildings were unroofed at Valley Springs, 25 miles east of Sioux Falls, by a cyclone which struck there last night.

BOY PLAYING IN STREET HIT BY CAR

LOSES THREE TOES AS RESULT OF FALLING DOWN

AMPUTATION WAS NECESSARY

Children on La Crosse Street Engaged in Game Did not Get Out of Way of the Trolley

At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon while a number of children were playing in the street at Sixteenth and La Crosse streets, Rudolph Lenseke, aged 8 years, son of M. B. Lenseke, 1614 La Crosse street, was struck by the fender of street car No. 29, and the rear wheels of the trolley crushed one of his feet, so severely that it was necessary to amputate three toes at the La Crosse hospital to which place the youngster was taken. Witnesses of the accident say that the car was not running very fast at the time of the accident. A brother of the injured lad says that the motorman did not stop, until finally he was prevailed upon to do so, and that he advised against taking the lad to the hospital. The children who were playing with the Lenseke boy say they were told they would be put in boiling water if they told how the accident occurred, according to the brother of the injured boy. However, it seems difficult to place the responsibility for the accident without a full investigation.

PAYS 25-YEAR-OLD DEBT; SEEKS PEACE

HEIRS OF VALENTINE DOERR ENRICHED BY $20

JUMPED BOARD BILL ONCE

A Mr. Claus Said to Reside at Merrill Says This Is the Only Thing on Which Conscience Revolted

It is believed the subject of this story is a gentleman by the name of Claus, residing in Merrill, this state, who has been in the city for a day or two.

The heirs of the late Valentine Doerr are richer today by $20 as a result of a contribution to the "conscience fund" by a man now prominent in business and political circles in this state. The name of the contributor is withheld, owing to a desire to protect him from notoriety, which would be obnoxious to him.

Early in the week the gentleman in question appeared in La Crosse and made inquiries for Mr. Doerr. He was told the latter had been dead for a number of years, but that his daughter, Mrs. Fred Heil, resided at 526 South Fifth street.

Mrs. Heil was surprised a few hours later by a call from a mysterious stranger, well dressed, genteel, and having about him every appearance of prosperity. The man disclosed his name, in confidence, and insisted on paying Mrs. Heil $20.

"Twenty-five years ago," he said, "I was a boarder at the then famous Hotel Vater Rhein, located at Fourth and Main streets on the site of the present Park store. I ran a bill there and 'jumped' it. I know of no other instance of dishonesty in my career, and this thing has worried my conscience all through the years in which I have been building up a business and reputation. I want to pay it."

After the transaction had been concluded to his satisfaction, the gentleman told Mrs. Heil that his mind was at rest at last, the first time in many years.

NEW LINE-UP IN DUBUQUE GAMES

Owing to the discovery that some of the men slated to play in the Dubuque games Saturday and Sunday were not in form, the line-up was revised by Manager Hawley today as follows:

Harms, c; Eberly, Jones, Roethel, p; Tracy, 1b; Love, 2b; Bues, 3b; Becker, ss; Graves, cf; Duchien, rf; Hastings, lf.

Miner has done nothing since Monday, and proved to be in bad form because of inactivity, and Hastings was substituted for Bourgeois for the same reason Killian and Moore are both unfit because they have just arrived and have not worked out.

Killian will be manager of the Saturday and Sunday games here with Viroqua, played by the second team. The regulars will return from Dubuque Sunday night. Two practice work-outs daily will be made here while the team is away.

GILMORE FINED IN POLICE COURT

Edward Gilmore was arraigned in the police court this morning on the complaint of William Bachmann, charged with using abusive language against plaintiff, and was fined $2 and costs, amounting to $4.50, which was paid by Mrs. William Bachmann.

The case resulted over a family quarrel. The defendant who is in the city visiting, has been making his home at the Bachmann's, and the quarrel in question occurred last Sunday evening when defendant refused to leave the Bachmann home. Higbee & Higbee appeared for defendant, Wolf & Wolf for the plaintiff.

Parents of Bride Hasten to Sea to Give Consolation to Their Bereaved Daughter

NEW YORK, April 24.—Private dispatches received by a Wall street house today states that Duke de Chaulnes, who recently was married to Theodora Shonts, daughter of the American millionaire, died last night in Paris. There is as yet no confirmation of the report, which carries no particulars of death, although a similar telegram was received at the town house of T. P. Shonts. Mr. Shonts has cabled his daughter for information.

Heart Disease Cause. PARIS, April 24.—Duc de Chaulnes was found dead in bed today beside his wife, formerly Theodora Shonts, in their apartment at Langham hotel. The duke was plainly a victim of heart disease.

The exact hour of his death is uncertain. His wife found him lifeless when she awoke and her screams gave the first alarm. A physician was immediately summoned, but pronounced the young nobleman already lifeless. The de Chaulnes occupied a suite at Langham, pending the completion of a fine house they were building here, their intention being to divide their time between Paris and New York.

The couple were married February 15th, and after a short bridal trip in the United States, came to Paris, where they have been ever since. It was not even known that the duke was in ill health, and his death was absolutely unexpected.

Lived Fast, Sought Career. When de Chaulnes and his bride sailed for Paris in March he was quoted by the press here as saying he did not intend to depend on his father-in-law, but proposed to make his own living. He had arranged, he said, to become the New York representative of an international firm dealing in railroad securities, and would return to the United States with his wife after a brief visit here. The duke never attempting to conceal the fact that he had lived an extravagant life before his marriage, and was more or less annoyed by

FIVE LA CROSSE ATHLETES STAR

GATEWAY CITY WELL REPRESENTED AT MADISON

CHARLES MILLER IS PREMIER

Former Football Player Joins the Track Team This Year and Much Is Expected of Him

That La Crosse can produce athletes is now being shown at the state university where five former high school students are in line to win honors during the coming season.

Charlie Miller, son of John H. Miller, 1006 Caledonia street, may be classed as the premier of the quintet. This spring he has taken to track athletics and is considered one of the likeliest candidates for honors in the weights at the coming intercollegiate track meet. He is considered one of the best all-around athletes at the university. During his freshman year he was captain of the freshmen football eleven, during the following spring he did good work with the varsity eight and the next fall played on the first football eleven. His work on the eleven was considered the best on the team and at the banquet and election of the 1907 class he received the honors unanimously. But when the fall season opened he was forced to give up athletics because of his studies, and laid down until this spring when he was asked to join the track candidates and immediately became a promising star.

Reuben Trane, son of J. A. Trane of West avenue, is another likely candidate for honors, but intends to restrict his entire work to the crew. Last year he was stroke on the freshmen eight that rowed at Poughkeepsie, and is now a regular on the varsity eight with strong indications of winning a permanent berth of the shell.

Calvin Schweinker is another candidate for the crew, and has been trying out on the first shell. Although he lacks the experience that Trane has he is making a hard fight for the varsity and may be a candidate for Poughkeepsie.

Henry Sprague, whose home is in Caledonia, graduated from the local high school and was prominent in athletics having been a delegate to the intercollegiate field meet at Madison from the local school. Sprague has taken up the work with the track team and has been making a showing in the 100 yard dash and the 220 yard dash.

Dittman, the La Crosse giant, has returned to his studies this spring after going through a successful season with the varsity basketball five.

VIROQUA ARRIVES FOR TWO GAMES

SATURDAY AND SUNDAY CONTESTS WITH VERNONITES

TEAM SAID TO BE FAST ONE

Indians Will Play With the La Crosse Team; Burgeois Stays Home from Dubuque Trip

With seven paid players in their line-up the team from Viroqua promises to make the Colts go some tomorrow and Sunday.

Besides the seven ex-stars, they have secured the assistance of Prof. Barlow, of the Viroqua high school, who will take a turn in the box, during the series. The Viroqua team looks good and from the report of a drummer who had a chance to see morning and will be used in the outfield against Viroqua. Whitewings has also returned and will entertain the fans during the Saturday and Sunday contests.

The regulars will leave this afternoon, at 4 o'clock for Dubuque with the line-up given in yesterday's Tribune with the exception of Burgeois, who injured his foot in practice yesterday and will be substituted by Hastings.

SPORTING BRIEFS.

While the Pinks are battering the Dubuque team, Bond and Killian will lead the colts before the Viroqua team.

Some one started a rumor yesterday to the effect that Moore had been given his release. Some one is a knocker.

Konetchka has started to hit the ball. As a starter he took a three-bagger and a single in Wednesday's game.

The Rockford team has been given the nickname of "Reds."

Green Bay is tearing things up in the Eastern Illinois league.

Chicago Athletic association defeated the University of Pennsylvania swimmers in a dual meet Wednesday by a score of 34 to 51.

Brooklyn claims they were robbed of a game at New York Wednesday by the crowd at the Polo field.

Otto Kempf has been sold by the Fort Wayne team to the Senators. He has been doing good work with the Fort Wayne team as a catcher.

MAKING GOOD

It is one thing to make extravagant claims for a car and still another to produce the proof.

We have avoided telling prospective customers anything about the poor qualities of cars not sold by us because our time is all taken up in explaining the good qualities of our own.

We are pleased to note, however, that our competitors find plenty of time to tell of the things a White Steamer or an Oldsmobile cannot do.

The ability of a White or an Oldsmobile to do is so well known by all well informed motorists that it is only for the benefit of those who do not know us or the lines of cars we sell that we make the following proposition. If any one approaches you with the statement that a White Steamer or an Oldsmobile or a Buick cannot do thus and so, we will agree to a contest with any car represented by a local agent maintaining a garage, to determine this fact, the loser to pay all expenses of the test. The test to be made between cars of equal selling price and between cars owned and used in La Crosse and operated by local drivers.

We will not agree to bar out the White Steamer.

HARRIMAN AND THE INNOCENTS
Congress is up against a difficult problem in the matter of compelling
the Harriman lines to make restitution to the government for damage done through their violation of the terms of a contract whereby the government granted it three millions of acres of western lands. The clause which Harriman disregarded was one limiting the sale price of the lands
on the part of the railroads to figures that would invite settlement of the immense tracts, so that the country would develop rapidly. The Harriman crowd sold about one-third of the land at a much higher figure,
and withheld the rest from sale for speculative purposes, thus thwarting
the very purpose for which the government grant was made, and retarding the growth of population and industry in that section.
Objection to authorizing the department of justice to bring suit to compel Harriman to make amends is repeated by a certain coterie in congress on the ground that such a suit would necessarily affect the titles to property held by innocent purchasers
who have acquired their lands from the railroads in good faith. While there is an apparently well founded suspicion that part at least of this opposition is offered by friends of Harriman in the hope of blocking efforts to penalize him upon the subterfuge that others innocent of wrong would have to suffer, it is probable there is enough fact behind their protestations to give them color
of sincerity, and no graver duty confronts congress than that of protecting people whose investments in these lands have been honestly made.
However, it would seem that some legal method of compelling Harriman
to make restitution may be found,
without imposing the hardships
which it is claimed will result to others.

WHO TALKS TOO MUCH?
Emperor William is having his troubles with American women and English men. He finds they gabble, and that he cannot talk to them of state secrets without a "leak" being sprung somewhere.
So far as American women, or any women, are concerned, the leak is not surprising. The kaiser naturally is not exempt from the philosophy that "there are two periods in which a man cannot understand a woman—
before he marries her and after marriage," but he certainly should understand that the theory of woman's inability to keep a secret is more than mere joke-book philosophy. The Chicago Record-Herald replies to the emperor's accusation that "American women talk too much," with the counter charge that "the kaiser talks too much," and the point seems well taken. The Chicago paper might have included King Edward in its discussion, as that worthy is today

discussed because Consuelo, dowager duchess of Manchester, "tipped
off" the secret of the Asquith appointment, imparted to her in a confidential conversation. Of the kaiser
the Record-Herald says:

"The German emperor is reported as having reached the sad conclusion that he must give up the habit of talking pleasantly to Americans who are presented to him. He is forced to believe that they are conversational sieves. Instead of bottling up the imperial words and allowing them to ripen and accomplish works of grace, the American who had been made the repository of them seems to hurry out and tell them to a barber or some other perfect transmitter.

"If the kaiser talks about anything more serious than the weather he finds that he might as well have made a speech to the assembled multitude so far as the general result is concerned. His experience with Lord Tweedmouth taught him that it was unsafe to write what he thinks, and
he is gaining experience which teaches him it is not wise to say
what he thinks.

"Recently he told the American consul at Berlin that he did not believe the proposed hanging railway
would add anything to the powers
which make for a greater and more beautiful Berlin. He intimated that he was against suspended transportation. His experience with Lord Tweedmouth taught him that it was
unsafe to write what he thinks, and
he is gaining experience which
teaches him it is not wise to say
what he thinks.

"The emperor is beginning to believe that every time he writes to an Englishman or talks to an American
he gets 'in bad' in a new quarter.
Hereafter when a distinguished American is received in audience and when he opens up for fifteen minutes' instructive conversation on world politics he need not be surprised if a worried look spreads over the imperial countenance or astounded if the kaiser hastily remarks:
'Pardon me a moment. I see that the chickens are in the penitentiary
again,' and beats a quick retreat.

"In a way it is unfair to fill a citizen up with the effervescence of imperial conversation and then to expect that he, feeling like a champagne bottle, will conduct himself with the placidity of an empty gourd. Three-fourths of the pleasure of the meeting comes in the days
after when the distinguished citizen is able to remark in an offhand fashion: 'As the emperor said to me the other day—'

"The responsibility plainly is up to the kaiser. He should consider the frailty of human nature and say only such things as he wishes to be spread abroad."

One of a couple of "gents" who hit this city "on a flying switch"
some five or six years ago announces that local business interests are "pulling together." What is of greater concern to him is that his own private "business interests" are leg-pulling together.

It is current gossip in Washington
that there is apt to be no serious recurrence of currency legislation this session.

Henry Watterson concedes the nomination of Mr. Bryan. This is the first hard blow the Nebraskan has sustained.

A LOST ART REDISCOVERED.
(Free Press.)
In Science for April 10, Frank Della Torre announces his rediscovery
of the famous Venetian varnish,
which has been the despair of violin makers for nearly 200 years. Shortly after the discovery of America the gondolas of Venice were regularly
coated with a transparent, lustrous, orange-red varnish. This flame-colored material made everything beautiful upon which it was painted.
After the Venetian city fathers declared that all gondolas must be black, the wonderful varnish was turned over to the violin makers.
Some Italian furniture of the seventeenth century still exists which is coated with it. When the violin makers had used up the supply, on the last Cremona, no more was to be had. Investigation led Mr. Torre to conclude that the raw materials
of this varnish must have come from Africa, and he believes that he has
at last found a gum varnish identical with that used by the Cremona makers. It looks like the old varnish and seems to have the same wonderful effect on violins covered by it.

Her Opinion
A father whose looks are not such as to warrant the breaking up of all existing statues of Apollo, tells
this on himself:
My little girl was sitting on my lap facing a mirror. After gazing intently at her reflection for some minutes she said: 'Papa, did God make you?'
'Certainly, my dear,' I told her.
'And did he make me, too?'—
taking another look in the mirror.
'Certainly, my dear. What makes you ask?'
'Oh, I don't know. Seems to me
he's doing 'better work lately.'—

SPOTLIGHTS
"Singin' Skule" Coming.
One of the funniest local talent
entertainments seen in this vicinity
in many a day is scheduled to be presented by the Y. P. C. U. of St.
Paul's Universalist church at the Y.
M. C. A. hall Thursday night, April 30. It is called the "Singin' Skule Beginnint," and represents the closing exercises of an old fashioned country "Singin' Skule" brought up to date. The entertainment will be presented under the management of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bassett Willard, of Cincinnati, who will attend to all of the coaching and drilling and play
the leading comedy part. The "Singin' Skule" has been a tremendous success everywhere and the projectors feel confident that their efforts in securing it for representation here will be rewarded by a crowded house.

Merchant of Venice Tonight.
Miss Imogene Courtleigh, the leading lady with the Henry Dickson company of players appearing at the La Crosse theater Saturday and Sunday, is a young actress, who has already attained remarkable success
in the theatrical world.

Possessing a striking personality,
rare beauty and a keen conception,
Miss Courtleigh's portrayal of the various roles in which she appears never fails to leave a lasting and pleasing effect upon the audience.
As Portia in Shakespeare's wonderful masterpiece, "The Merchant of Venice," Miss Courtleigh has received the greatest praise, while her interpretation of Lady Isabel in "East Lynne" has been spoken of by the leading critics as the embodiment of womanly reserve and feeling. As Julie de Mortemar in "Richelieu" Miss Courtleigh never fails to carry her audience with her.
Miss Courtleigh possesses the most elegant costumes specially designed for her in Paris, which she will wear
during this engagement. One lady admitted free tonight with each paid 30c ticket secured before 6 p. m.

REPRESENTATIVE JENKINS'S FORESTRY REPORT.
(New York Times.)

The individual report of Chairman
Jenkins, declaring unconstitutional
the Appalachian-White mountain
forestry bill, submitted to the house judiciary committee and to be acted upon this week, is judicial only in semblance. Mr. Jenkins condemns the measure solely because "it is claimed by some—not by all," that the preservation of the forests "will cause rain to fall and thereby increase the flow" of navigable waters;
therefore congress has no power in so speculative a matter. The report upsets a straw man. Mr. Jenkins does not meet the argument contained, for example, in Senator Brandage's report on the feasibility of federal acquirement for the purpose of regulating navigable streams of the forest lands of the two strategic areas.

In each area the mountains are watersheds and sources of numerous rivers flowing between and among several states. Whether or not a standing forest has to do with causing rain to fall, there is a well authenticated body of expert opinion which Mr. Jenkins ignores, to the effect that the sponge of roots and humus sheltered by a standing forest is the natural regulator of the streams, and that, when axemen
and forest fires strip this over, destructive floods and droughts are the result. Cutting through the mountain soils with torrential force, the floods carry down the sand silt which congress, at the cost of millions, has dredged laboriously from navigable channels. Because of this ever-increasing but preventable inrush of silt Senator Brandage's committee
estimates that we have expended $41,000,000 upon rivers with sources
in the southern Appalachian districts, and $2,500,000 on streams
rising in the White mountains.
Floods increased upon all these rivers between 1876 and 1905 from 55
per cent to 330 per cent in duration, while the summer low-water conditions were intensified.

Of course, all this hinders navigation. It supplies the prime reason —and there are many collateral reasons—why congress has power under the commerce clause of the constitution to create eastern national reserves. The judiciary committee has not yet acted on the report of its chairman. It ought not to act favorably upon it.

MUST YOUR CHILD LIE?
(Appleton's.)
When a boy of 2 or 3 rushes into the house with beaming eyes and says he saw a horse with a horn on his head, a dog as big as a house, or that God met him on the lawn and told him not to pick flowers, that he had been up to the moon, and these are real cases, he has perhaps just discovered for the first time that he can really say things that have no basis in reality. This marks the moment of the conscious birth of the imagination. The child is also gratifying his passion of exciting attention and arousing interest. Fancy in childhood is very vivid and inventive, and, probably, in our prosaic,
matter-of-fact world, far more often needs a period of cultivation than repression. In the home and school games of "shut your eyes and tell me what you see" we often have after a little practice, the most staggering Munchausen wonders or tales spun out of pure visual imagery that make the child first acquainted with the charm of his new-found imaginative power—tales true not to things but
to thoughts, feelings, and wishes.
The child is a poet, artist, romancer,
and always has a larger fraction of belief in his reveries than adults have in theirs.

"Woman," he hissed, "woman, do
you thus spurn my heart after leading me on?" "When did I lead you
on, as you call it?" asked the girl.
"Did you not tell me that that fortune teller had told you that you were to wed a handsome, blonde young man, with the grace of a Green God and the voice of an Aeolian harp?"

FORUM
Editor Tribune:
A disinterested party but one who sees the fitness of things, would like to add a few words to this controversy as to proper location for the county agricultural school. Aside from the bonus offered by the different towns who are striving to get this school in their midst, any candid
far-sighted person can see at a glance
that a more ideal location than On-alaska has to offer can not be found.
When we take into consideration the scenery, the healthfulness, the water, the diversity of soil, the amount of acreage available, and last but not least from an economic standpoint,
of the students who would have all the advantages of a quiet, healthful country life within two blocks of street cars to take them to a city
where they could have shopping facilities, also intellectual advantages that La Crosse has to offer at greater convenience, less time and expense than any other location in this county, and that means a great deal to the average student.

5034 Circular Skirt, 29 to 32 waist.
(To be made with or without seam
at front, with gathers or tucks over the hips and with inverted plaits or habit back. Perforated for walking length.)

The latest circular skirts are a bit less voluminous than has been the case and are fitted over the hips by means of gathers or darts. This one is among the newest and best and can be treated in so many ways that it becomes adapted to all reasonable materials. It can be made either with or without the seam at the front and it can be made with tucks or gathers over the hips. Again the fulness at the back can be laid in inverted plaits or it can be cut off and the skirt finished in "habit" style. In the illustration one of the new pretty foulards is finished with a hem
stitched with belding silk but the circular skirt is adapted both to the thin materials and those of heavier weight and can be left plain or be trimmed in any way that may be liked. A single band above the hem is one of the later trimmings and wide applied hems are much in vogue.

The skirt can be cut either in one or two pieces as it is made with or without a seam at the center front.
Whether it is tucked or gathered over the hips, it is joined to a belt and whether the back is finished with plaits or in "habit" style the closing is made invisibly at the center.

The quantity of material required
for the medium size is 5 1/2 yards 27-4 yards 44 or 3 1/2 yards 52 inches wide, with seam at center front; 6 1/2 yards 27, 4 1/2 yards 44 or 4 1/2 yards 52 inches wide without seam at center front.

The pattern 5034 is cut in sizes for a 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32 inch waist measure and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents. (If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage
which insures more prompt delivery.)

The Extreme Penalty.
Lord Russell, a famous jurist, once went to Scotland to help the Liberals in a campaign. He purposely began his speech with a few sentences of bad Scotch, and then when the confusion caused by the blunder had subsided, he said:
"Gentlemen, I do not speak Scotch,
but I vote Scotch, and I often drink Scotch." He was greeted with tremendous applause.
When Russell was a young man he was sitting in a court listening to a trial for bigamy. A friend leaned across to him and asked, "Russell, what is the extreme penalty for bigamy?"
"Two mothers-in-law," was the reply.—St. Louis Times.

But we are inclined to believe that actions do not speak louder than words at the meetings of sewing societies.

OF PARK LANE By

ing his cigar between his teeth.
"Mr. Statham knows me well. He knows I'd nae tell him what I didn't ken ma'sel'."
The great financier rose thoughtfully and stood with his back to the mantelshelf.

"Look here, Macgregor," he said,
fixing his eyes upon the man seated before him. "When you called at the office and was fool enough not to give your proper name you had a difficulty in getting an interview with me. I hadn't any idea till I received your note that—well, that you were in the land of the living.
When we met before it was under different circumstances—very different, weren't they?" and the millionaire smiled. "Shall I recall to your memory one scene—long ago—
a scene that lives in my memory this moment as though the events happened but yesterday. We were both younger, and more active then—you and I—"

"Nae, Mr. Statham. We're better not hearin' it," he protested, holding up his hand. "I jalouse what you're agin' to say."
"To you, my friend, I owe much,"
the old man went on. "The place was in a sun-baked South American city, the time was sunset, fierce and blood-red like the deeds of that never-to-be-forgotten day. There was war—a revolution was in progress, and the Government forces had been that day driven back into the capital followed by us. I remember you, with that great bullet furrow down your cheek and the blood streaming from it as you fought at my side. I see you bear the scar even now." Then, with a quick movement he pulled up his sleeve
and showed on his right forearm a great cleavage, asking: "Do you remember how I received this?"

"Nae, nae, Mr. Statham, enough!"
cried the Scott. "Our days of war are long since past. They'll come again nae mair."

"You remember how we followed
the troops of Hernandez into the capital, shooting and killing as we drove them before us, and how you and I
and a few more of the younger bloods
made a dash for the Palace to secure the President himself. I recollect the wild excitement of those moments. I was tearing along the street shouting and urging on my men, when of a sudden I found myself surrounded by a dozen soldiers of Hernandez. I fought for life, though well knowing I was lost, as a prisoner I should be tortured, for they had long sworn to serve me as they had served our friends Jose and Mannuel. This recollection flashed across me, and with my back to the wall I fired my pistol full in a man's face and blew it out of all recognition. A man had raised his rifle and covered me, but next moment I gave him an upward cut with my sword.

"At the same instant I felt a sharp twinge upon my right arm, and my sword dropped from my grasp. I was wounded, and stood there at their mercy. A dark-faced beetle-browed fellow raised his sabre with a fierce Spanish oath to cut me down, but in the blood-red sunlight another blade
flashed high, and the man sank down dying in the dust.

"It was you, Macgregor—you alone had come to my aid, and four of my attackers fell beneath your blows in that hand-to-hand struggle
as your own body placed before mine, fought on, keeping them back and yet without assistance. Shall I ever forget those moments, or how near both of us were to death? I was already half-fainting, but you shouted to me to keep my courage, and in the end we were discovered by our men and saved. If ever a deed deserved
the Victoria Cross, yours did. You, Macgregor—as you now call yourself
—saved my life.

"An' I'm here, Mr. Statham, to save it again, if ye'll only let me,"
was the Scott's dry reply.

"Years have gone since that day,"
the millionaire went on, with a distinct catch in his voice. "I lost sight of you soon afterwards and heard once that you were in Caracas. Then there was no further news of you. We drifted apart—our lives lay in opposite directions. Yet to you—and to you alone—I owe my present life, for were it not for your aid
at that moment I should have been put to the torture in that terrible castle where Hernandez held his prisoners to death, and my body given to the rats like others of our friends."

"Eh, mon, ye really make me
blush," laughed Macgregor. "So pleased don't talk of it. That's all over the noo. Let the past take care of itself. We've got the present to face."

"I have never ceased reflecting upon the past," Sam declared in a rather low and husky voice. "I never dreamed that the man Macgregor, in the employ of the Clyde and Motherwell Works, was the same man to whom I am indebted for my life."

"Ah! man's a problem that puzzles
the devil hissel," laughed Macgregor.
"I'd nae ha kenned ye were the Statham I knew out there in the old days till I saw the picture of ye in the Glasgow News one night when I bought it at the corner of Polmadie Street on me way home. An' there was a biography of ye—which didn't mention very much. But it was the real Sam Statham—and Sam Statham was my friend of long ago."

"Most extraordinary!" remarked
Levi, who had been smoking quietly and listening to the conversation. "I had no idea of all this!"
"There are many incidents in my career, Levi, of which you are unaware," remarked his friend.
"I have no doubt," Levi said, "that always looked askance at any friend

of Mr. Samuel's of the old days. Everybody who had ever known him in the unknown and struggling period,
now claimed his acquaintance as his intimate friend, and various and varied were the ruses adopted in order to endeavour to obtain an interview.
He suspected this hairy Scot—
whose bravery in his youth had saved
Sam's life—of working for his own ends.

"This a strange story of yours, Duncan," remarked the millionaire
a few moments later, his eyes fixed upon the seated man—"so strange that I should not believe it, but for one thing."

"An' what's that?"
"Other information in my possession goes to prove that your surmise is actually correct,
and that your apprehension has foundation. I know that Adam is in London. I've seen him."

"An' he's seen you—eh?" cried
Macgregor, starting up in alarm.
"Yes, he's seen me."
"Did he speak to ye?"
"No. He watched me through the window from yonder pavement outside."

A silence fell in that warm room
where the blinds were still down to exclude the sun, a silence unbroken save by the buzzing of the flies and
the low, solemn ticking of the clock.
At last the Scot spoke.
"He means mischief. Depend on it."

"I quite believe he does," Statham
admitted.
"That is why we should act at once," Levi chimed in.

"And perhaps by a premature move spoil the whole of our chance of victory!" remarked the millionaire, very thoughtfully.

"Remember that Adam holds very strong cards in the game," the butler urged, knocking the ash slowly from his cigar. Surely it was a queer, unusual scene, this conference of three!
"I have suspected something for some time past, Levi," was his master's response. "And I took steps to combat my enemies; but, unfortunately, I was not sufficiently wary,
and I failed."

"What, mon?" gasped the man
from Glasgow: "ye don't say ye're
at the mercy of those devils?"
"I tell you, Macgregor, that my position is more insecure than even
you believe it to be," was the response, in a low voice, almost of despair.

INCREASE HYDRANTS TO INSURE SAFETY

The board of public works has commenced the installation of hydrants in the alleys on Main street between Front and Fourth and on King street between Front and Fourth streets. The installing of the hydrants is considered essential for better fire protection. In case of a large fire in the business section of the city where the hydrants are located on the corners it is necessary to string the hose at great distances and necessitating the use of considerable hose that could be used to advantage if more hydrants were obtainable.

NORTH SIDE MAN DECLARED INSANE

JOHN S. DOWLING, JUSTICE OF PEACE, IS COMMITTED

SAID HE WANTED TO DIE

Believed the World Was Against Him and Was Anxious to Seek the Other Shore.

Judge Brindley this morning committed John S. Dowling, 1234 Rose street, to the state insane asylum at Mendota, as the result of a medical examination.

Dowling has been justice of the peace on the North side for some time, and has been known as eccentric. Of late he has brooded over the belief that he was being persecuted and that the world was against him, and has said he wanted to die.

Dowling is 52 years old and fifteen years ago spent a few months at the asylum, when he returned home in sound mental condition. It is expected that a treatment at the asylum will restore Mr. Dowling to his former health.

THE JOKERS, GOT IT ON MANKE

"Geo, Joe, I've worked hard today and let the day seems awful short. It's mighty funny. Some times you don't have much to do and yet the day drags along as if it would never end. Well it's six o'clock and it's me to the supper table, come on."

With the foregoing speech Manke proceeded to lock up his shop for the day. He got up Mill street and the first thing he ran into was a street sweeper, working as if it was noon.

"Say, don't you know it's six o'clock—didn't you hear the whistle blow? I should think you'd be glad to quit."

"What's the matter with you? The springs in your watch must be off their trolley; it's only 7 minutes after five."

"Oh no, I've had that old clock in the shop for years and I'd bet money on it, it's always right."

"Well, here comes a railroad man, ask him."

With that they both pounced upon the railroad man and after convincing him they weren't after his watch he showed them that it was about seven minutes after five.

"Well, if that wouldn't sink your bobber!" and Manke went back to look at his clock. The clock wasn't to blame but from the loud peals of laughter from the other side of the street he soon found out who was.

"Well, the joke's on me, but I can't go home. I'd have to give an account to my wife, so I'll just stick around."

NORTHWEST ROADS FAVORED IN REPORT

Railways running through La Crosse are favorably represented in a bulletin published by the interstate commerce commission showing the extent to which block signals are used on railways in the United States. While many of the eastern and shorter roads made a perfect showing as regards the percentage of miles covered by block signals, as compared to the total miles operated, these roads are considerably older, comparatively speaking, than the transcontinental lines. In making comparisons it is also necessary to bear in mind the relative intensity of traffic on the lines with entire mileage under the block system and some of the longer and more recently constructed roads, which run through a country sparsely populated, where the volume of traffic is not so intense.

The figures shown in the bulletin indicate that local roads in the aggregation compare favorably with other lines. Although some of the local roads have not installed so great an amount of block signaling within the last few years as some lines in other parts of the country, the growth has followed the increase in business.

LEADERS IN THE CURRENCY REFORM

Edward B. Vreeland.

Nelson W. Aldrich.

Charles M. Fowler.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 24.—Perhaps the most important measure which has held the attention of congress during its present session has been in regard to currency reform. Senator Aldrich was on hand with his reform bill when congress opened. This has been so distorted by amendments that Aldrich himself would scarcely recognize it as his own bill and does not favor many of the amendments.

Representative Vreeland had a substitute bill, which has just been laid on the table.

The action of the committee was taken after a meeting lasting all day. Representative Vreeland made a long argument before the committee in favor of his bill saying he thought it would be criminal negligence for congress to adjourn without passing some measure of protection in event of another panic this fall. He did not think, however, that a panic was imminent. Mr. Vreeland said his bill was an emergency measure only and he favored the appointment of a currency commission to consider a permanent banking committee, after tabling Vreeland's bill, voted to report favorably the bill recently introduced by Charles Fowler, providing for a currency commission to consist of 43 members, 11 members of the senate, 11 members of the house and 21 others, who must be citizens of the United States.

When Senator Aldrich drew up his bill it was the general belief that the people of the United States would not stand for any meddling with its currency laws other than some slight changes which would make our currency more elastic and better able to adjust itself to an over stringent money market. It now develops that the more thinking financier and business man over the country feels that our currency laws are not fully adequate and that radical changes should be made. This sentiment has been growing until now the bill of Charles Fowler providing for a currency commission to study into the currency laws carefully, seems to meet with general approbation.

CHARGES ERLICH WITH CHURCH ROW

GOLDISH SECURES WARRANT FOR FISH SHIPPER

BAD LANGUAGE IN CHURCH

That is What the Leader of the Jewish Congregation Charges Against His Adversary

A. M. Goldish today secured a warrant for M. Erlich, the fish dealer, charging him with using improper language and disturbing a religious service in the Hebrew church during a session of the Sons of Abraham, 413 North Eleventh street.

A festival is being held at the church at present and the warrant is the result of a row between Goldish, who is a sort of leader of the church and Erlich, who disputes his leadership.

Erlich applied for a warrant for Goldish a few days ago, before Judge Hunt, but the warrant was not issued because an improper blank was the only one available, and Erlich did not make a second application.

It now seems likely that Erlich will make another application for the warrant for Goldish charging him with abusive language.

MINNIE RUMSTICK TELLS THE COURT OF FIGHT

THOUGHT SHE WAS JUSTIFIED

Woman Hires Lawyer and Seeks to Fight Case Although She Admits Administering Beating

When the case of the state vs. Mrs. Minnie Rumstick was brought in county court this morning on a charge of assault, the defendant admitted with no small amount of pride that she had beaten her neighbor, Mrs. Mathilda Vanne, who occupies part of the same house.

Mrs. Rumstick claimed the other woman struck her child with a piece of hose, while the evidence showed that the child had turned the hose on Mrs. Vanne by accident and that the latter had merely grabbed it from the child's hands, rather excitedly and probably rather roughly.

Mrs. Rumstick insisted upon a trial and being found guilty was fined $1 and costs amounting to $6.00.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR BIG CONCERT

At the meeting of the Saengerfest this evening the committees will report on the progress of the concert to be given at the La Crosse theatre next Wednesday. The concert will be one of the largest ever given by any organization in the city and will include besides five soloists, Kreutz's orchestra, of twenty-five pieces, the mixed chorus of the Saengerfest with over two hundred voices and the male chorus, with about seventy-five voices.

The other features of the concert will be solos by Miss Alma Rosley, soprano; Prof. Arthur P. Thomas, pianist; Prof. E. A. Forseth, baritone, and J. L. Utermoehl, basso. Joseph Rietz will render a piccolo solo. The rehearsal of the choruses will be held at Frohmann hall Sunday afternoon and following the matinee a dress rehearsal will take place at the theatre.

PLEASING PROGRAM AT THE Y. M. C. A.

The entertainment given by the officers of the Y. M. C. A. to the members and friends was held at the auditorium last evening, and was one of the most successful events ever given by the "Y."

A feature of the entertainment was the work of Prof. W. S. Meiklejohn, "the mysterious," in magic and mirth. His entertainment which was given in two parts, showed that he has magic and mystery at his disposal, and for fifty minutes the professor held the audience in bewilderment.

The closing of the membership contest was marked by the entertainment, and the second team was pronounced the winner, having 32 new members to their credit, to 29 of the first team.

Secretary Oliver J. Ash of the "Y" will give an entertainment at his home, 707 La Crosse street, some time next week to the teams and those who have taken an active part in the membership contest.

CASE COMES UP THIS AFTERNOON

Wolf & Wolf represent the plaintiff, while Charles B. Miller will appear for the defendant.

ALFRED AUSTIN'S LATEST POEM

The poet laureate of England, Alfred Austin, has written the following poem on Mozart's grave for the New York Independent, which is about to appear. The poem has not appeared in England and is thus given its first publication in America:

Where lies Mozart? Tradition shows
A likely spot; so much, no more;
No words of his own time disclose
Where crossed he to the Further shore,
Tho' later ages, roused to shame,
On tardy tomb have carved his name.

The sexton asked: "What may this be?"
"A Kapelmeister." 'Hand it in;
This common grave to all is free,
And for one more is room within.
It fills the fossa. Now tread it down
With pauper, lunatic, and clown."

Yet had he wizarded with sound
Electors, cardinals, and kings,
While there welled forth from source profound
The flow of silvery sounding
springs,
Music of tenderness and mirth,
One with his very soul at birth.

And they? Where are they now? The bust,
The elaborately carved tomb,
Whose scrolls, begrimed by age and dust,
None care to stoop and scan for whom,
Are all remaining to express
Their monumental nothingness.

Miter, and coronet, and crown,
Gaze into space that heed them not,
Unmeaning pomp of dead renown,
Medley of monarchs long forgot,
Who from the nation's ghostly strife
Won immortality—for life.

Once, on Nile's bank, an artist raised
A temple at the king's command,
And on its name august emblazed,
But when a flood submerged the land
The name was washed away, and lo!
The artist's was inscribed below.

Thus vanish ostentatious lives;
But through all time, beloved Mozart,
Your magic memory survives.
Part of the universal heart;
In joy a sympathetic strain,
In sorrow soother of our pain.

The potentates on whom men gaze,
When once their rule has reached its goal
Die into darkness with their days;
But monarchs of the mind and soul
With light unfading and unspent Illuminate Fame's firmament.

MR. BISPHAM DELIGHTS MUSIC LOVERS OF CITY AT THEATRE

Mr. David Bispham, who was heard in concert at the theatre last evening, held his audience entranced during two hours of music such as La Crosse audiences are seldom privileged to hear. The first two groups of songs were in German, and "Der Wanderer" and "Im Herbst" were especially good. "The first song in English was an encore to the second group, Schubert's "Hark, Hark the Lark," and was exquisite. Then came the recitation, "Robert of Sicily," with piano accompaniment, which was one of the finest things of the evening, for Mr. Bispham is the actor as well as the singer, and his interpretation and dramatic intensity enthralled his hearers. In the next group the finale of act 2 of "The Vicar of Wakefield," was given, the setting of the scene being described by Mr. Bispham, which added greatly to the rendering. This included "The Mad Dog" by Liza Lehmann and "Now Go, My Children," two charming numbers.

Probably no number on the program was more enjoyed than the Old Irish song, "Believe me if all those endearing young charms," sung with pathos and deep feeling. "The Stuttering Lover," another old Irish air, was very pleasing, and was followed by the closing numbers of the program, "Who Knows," and "The Hanging of Danny Deever." The latter number was a thrilling bit sung in martial time, and although it was the closing number, the audience refused to go, until Mr. Bispham had granted one more selection. He chose "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," and even then the audience seemed loth to depart, and end a program which though exceptionally generous in length, seemed all too short. Mr. Bispham's magnetic personality and fine stage appearance add much to the pleasure of his wonderful voice, and he sings with authority and absolute ease. He was delightfully accompanied by Harold Osborne Smith, a young pianist of more than ordinary merit, who also played Chopin's Ballad in G Minor. He responded to an encore with Grieg's "March of the Dwarfs" which was well done.

Y. M. C. A. ENTERTAINMENT PROVES BIG SUCCESS

The Y. M. C. A. closed its membership campaign last evening with a delightful entertainment and social in the rooms at the Y. M. C. A. Over 50 members were enrolled and the entertainment was a fitting ending for so successful a campaign.

Prof. Meiklejohn was the star number on the program, as he gave a delightful performance in slight-of-hand work. S. A. Askumb rendered several vocal solos while the theatre orchestra furnished the music.

In behalf of the Corps ladies, Mrs. Larson was presented with two beautiful linen scarfs, showing the esteem in which she is held. Dainty refreshments were served. Those present were Mesdames Helen Withrow, Sarah Calkins, Catherine Langdon, Jennie Bailey, Jennie Kish, Helen Turner, Louisa Wachsmuth, Henrietta Mannstedt, Lena Burkhardt, Theresa Hemphill, Minnie Scholl, Sarah Schafer, and Lena Larson; the Misses Lulu Wachsmuth, Gussie Gilbertson, Esther Larson, Alta Hemphill, Violet Kish and Helen Scholl; Mr. Peterson and Albert Larson.

EAGLES ENJOY DANCE LAST EVENING

The Eagles enjoyed one of their dances last evening at the Woodman hall, when a large number of the local lodge members and their friends made merry until an early hour this morning. The hall was handsomely decorated for the occasion, stuffed eagles lending an air of originality to the arrangements. Transparent, electric signs were displayed with good effect, a large electric sign at one end showing the letters F. O. E. in brilliant colors.

Kreutz's full orchestra of 17 pieces furnished delightful music for the dancers, and intermission was taken about midnight for refreshments, a great many patronizing the Cafe. Mr. John Williams was chairman of the arrangements, and to him and his able corps of assistants great credit is due.

FRENCH PERFORMER DIES IN 'DEATH TRAP'

BERLIN, April 24.—A French professor named Gadin was killed here before the eyes of 5,000 spectators while going through a daring performance known as the "death leap" at the Circus Busch.

Gadin's performance consisted of leaping from the roof, 100 feet in height, to an inclined, smoothly planed wooden shaft. After landing on the shaft, he slid down into a net at the bottom. The distance from the point where the leap began to the top of the inclined shaft was 60 feet and the shaft was 40 feet in length.

A successful performance of this feat necessitated leaping so skillfully to the shaft that the body should hit the shaft lightly and glide down the surface without severe shock. The hazardous nature of the performance was sufficiently indicated by the title given to it. Gadin himself understood thoroughly that the least deviation from the proper course through midair would inevitably result in his death.

He dived from the roof headlong, and poised his body while shooting through the air at such an angle that he alighted on the shaft at exactly the same angle at which the shaft was inclined, thereby sliding down without further resistance.

On the fatal night he failed to maintain this poise and struck the upper end of the shaft with his chest. He turned a somersault, and fell heavily to the ground. Death ensued shortly afterward.

The performance was immediately stopped and the horrified audience hastily quitted the building. Gadin had performed the "death leap" 138 times without the least mishap.

PROF. ZIMMER OF HIGH SCHOOL DIES

POPULAR TEACHER SUCCEUMS AFTER DETERMINED FIGHT

SCHOOLS ARE CLOSED TODAY

Instructor in Commercial Course Prominent Mason; Funeral Arrangements Now Being Made

At shortly before seven o'clock last evening occurred the death of Alfred A. Zimmer, professor and instructor of the commercial course at the La Crosse high school. Mr. Zimmer has had a strong fight on his hands for a number of years, having been subject to periculous anaemia. Only his strong constitution has kept him up. Monday during the last recitation in the forenoon he was taken with a severe case of nose bleeding, and grew weak from loss of blood. He was able to go to his rooms at the home of Mrs. O. Preschle, 115 South Eleventh street, where he failed rapidly. A brother, Donald Zimmer, residing at Berlin, Ontario, was notified of his condition Tuesday and is expected to arrive within a few days and will take charge of the body.

Mr. Zimmer was born in Perth county, Ontario, about thirty years ago and received his education at the schools at Berlin and after graduating there entered Galt college. He made a special study of the commercial course and taught shorthand and bookkeeping in Rutland, N. H., Omaha, Neb., and other western schools. In 1905 when the commercial course was established in the local school he was given charge of the work and has filled the position with great credit, since his arrival in La Crosse. He was popular with all the students and made friends with every one attending school.

He is survived by his aged father, mother and several brothers, all residing at Ontario. He was a Mason, having been transferred to the Frontier lodge No. 45, of this city, in 1906, from the lodge at Baden, Ontario. He was also a Royal Arch Mason, in the Smith chapter and took the Knight Templar degree in the La Crosse commandery in June last year.

The board of education will hold a special meeting to assist the Masons in the funeral arrangements now awaiting the arrival of relatives from Canada.

The schools are closed today on account of his demise.

FUNERAL OF MRS. HOHL TOMORROW

R. L. Warninger and wife returned this morning from Denver accompanying the remains of Mrs. A. H. Hohl, mother of Mrs. Warninger.

The funeral will be held at Mound Parris, home of deceased, tomorrow, at 1 o'clock from the residence and 2:30 from the church. The father and mother of deceased, Mr. and Mrs. Krochler, reside at Mound Prairie, and four brothers and four sisters survive her.

Mr. and Mrs. Warninger will make La Crosse their home again after a year spent in Denver.

BANDITS QUIT IN MIDST OF HOLD-UP

BUTTE, Mont., April 24.—Lack of nerve on the part of bandits at the critical moment last night saved the overland flyer on the Northern Pacific from being held up at Welsh's Spur, fifteen miles east of here. The sheriff and a posse returned from the scene of the attempted robbery this morning with three prisoners, Alfred Teasdale, Rudolph Wenk and Paul Filenius, who admit flagging the train, but declare they were compelled to do so by two masked robbers. The robbers, they say, decided to give up the attempt after the train had stopped and a half dozen shots had been fired at the engineer.

If you wanted a pair of shoes made would you go to a harness maker who deals in leather? No! You would go to a shoemaker. One who makes it his business to make shoes only. Record Making Race

The race promises to make auto history of a startling sort. A stock car race, in which 14 foreign and American makes are represented, and in which 22 cars will start, will mark a new departure in automobile racing in this country. A speed contest in its essential conception, it is even more than this. It is a race which will not only test the qualities of stock cars in their ability for speed, but in their adaptability as well, in their standup qualities and in all other essentials that go to make up the successful car. Given the best car in the race it will test the qualities of the driver in addition. The best driver may score a victory over his less skillful competitors even though he has a slightly inferior car. It is possible that the race may test the driver more than it tests the car, for careless or reckless driving will bring any one of the competitors to grief.

The course is extremely difficult and cannot be fast by any possible combination of circumstances. There are no stretches in which tremendous speed can be maintained long enough to enable the winner to record a high average rate throughout. There are many turns winding over the 30 miles, some of them worse than those which were regarded with awe in the Vanderbilt cup races on Long Island. There are obstructions at the side of the road at many of the most disadvantageous points. In fact, the entire distance is over rolling country. The windings and abrupt dips are so many that the automobiles will frequently be compelled to run as low as 10 miles an hour momentarily, bringing down the average of speed very low indeed compared with anything that has ever been recorded in road races before.

Yet the performance of the winner, considering the conditions, will undoubtedly be fast going, for the cars in the race average exceptionally well and represent the best that is to be found in Europe and America. The drivers, too, include men who made their mark, both in road and track contests, and there is every reason to expect that their performance will maintain a high average.

These are the attractions of the race. The disadvantages are as obvious. The course is such that sufficient width is given for cars to pass one another only at a few places. If a car comes to grief at any one of the difficult and narrow points on the road there is danger of the following cars running into the breakdown and disabling themselves in turn, to say nothing of the delays incident to clearing the way. Jockeying may hold up the racers for a considerable length of time and may play an important part in determining the outcome.

However, the conditions are those that a car will meet on American roads continuously and the skill to be expected from drivers of the character of these averted serious accident.

Members of the New York regiment acted as marshals to protect the course during this race. Over 1,000 officials were on hand to see that everything was conducted properly.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 24.—Chairman Harry New, of the republican national committee, has decided to call a meeting of the committee before the assembling of the national convention in June.

The large number of spirited contests among the state delegations makes it necessary for the committee to meet. In a letter to the committee today, New calls attention of the members to the fact that they may have to assemble in Chicago as early as June 1. He says:

"I have fully determined in view of the peculiar circumstances attendant upon the contest for the presidential nomination this year that all contests shall be heard by the full committee. There will be no sub-committees under any consideration and this being true, the time spent in the settlement of contests will be necessarily long."

Work on Building Will be Rushed During the Months of May and June

The semi-monthly meeting of the La Crosse Saengerfest association will be held this evening when the work during the month will be taken up and the figures from the contractors regarding the new auditorium will be brought up.

It is not likely that the contract will be let this evening for the building, but the figures and estimates of the various contractors will be read and if the committee considers the bids are favorable the contracts will be let in a short time and the work on the building rushed.

The building will be erected on the southwest corner of the market square. The council at its last meeting gave permission for the erection with the provision that it will be razed not later than the 15th of November.

trophy. It was 5:28 when Watson, the last starter, in the Simplex, got his start. It is estimated that 200,000 are packed in he scores of specially constructed grand stands along the line, who started to gather long before dawn broke. Each of the crews received a volley of applause as he wheeled to the scratch, but Barney Oldfield in the Stearns No. "13" appeared the popular favorite.

Many Early Casualties

During the early hours the following casualties were reported: A. Smith Hopkins, superintendent of the East View Almshouse, dropped dead of heart disease as the result of excitement at the start; W. Watson, driver of the Simplex, was jarred internally and had his big toe broken when his car overturned; Henry Wilcox, in the Suetator, was run down by a car near the start and his left leg was broken; W. I. Kirkpatrick fell down a bank while watching the race and his left ankle was broken; Mrs. Charles Upson was badly burned when her husband's auto caught fire in the sparkage near the start.

HOLD NO BRYAN MEETINGS HERE

NEBRASKAN DOES NOT NEED ANY "BOOSTING"

HAS WISCONSIN DEMOCRATS

County Chairman Doherty Says there Will Be No Bryan Organization as it Is Unnecessary

Throughout Minnesota Bryan democrats are organizing Bryan clubs to counteract the Gov. Johnson boom for president, but in La Crosse there will be no effort toward such organization, for the reason that Bryan is already the idol of the democrats and Gov. Johnson hasn't a "look in."

County Democratic Chairman John F. Doherty says that there has been no thought of holding Bryan meetings here for the purpose of stemming Johnson sentiment, as La Crosse, and in fact Wisconsin generally, is a unit for the Nebraskan.

The Johnson promoters have succeeded in getting a Norwegian in Madison to use his name and ink on a circular letter to democrats throughout the state in the interests of the Scandinavian governor of Minnesota, but the movement is a flimsy one, and there is no doubt but that Bryan has the Badger state whenever he wants to ask it for support.

The impression has gone out through this part of the country that Johnson is being backed by certain eastern moneyed interests to beat Bryan, and this fact has not helped his interests with democracy.

RHEUMATISM BLOOD FILLED WITH URIC ACID

Rheumatism comes from an excess of uric acid in the blood. This acid circulating through the system acts as an irritant to the different muscles, nerves, bones and tissues of the body, and produces the inflammation and swelling of the joints and the sharp, cutting pains characteristic of the disease. When the blood is overburdened with uric acid it continually grows weaker and more acid, and poorer in nourishing qualities. Then Rheumatism becomes chronic, and not only a painful, but a formidable and dangerous disease. Sometimes the heart is attacked, the general health is affected, and the oils and fluids which lubricate the muscles and joints are destroyed by the acid matter which the blood is constantly depositing in them; the muscles shrink and lose their elasticity, the coating of the joints becomes hard and thick, and often the sufferer is left a hopeless cripple. S. S. S. attacks the disease at its head, goes down into the circulation, and by neutralizing and removing the uric acid from the circulation and building up the thin, acid blood, cures Rheumatism permanently. S. S. S. changes the sour, acid-brained blood to a rich, healthy stream which quiets the excited nerves, eases the throbbing, painful muscles and joints, and filter out of the system the irritating matter which is causing the pain and inflammation. Begin the use of S. S. S. now and let the cause out of your blood so that the cold and dampness of Winter will not keep you in constant pain and misery. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free.

POTS AND PANS OF PREHISTORICS

MOUND OPENED AT BOONE, IA., IS RICH

DEAD MAN ON GUARD

Grave on Mound Prevented Its Opening for Years—2000 Relics Found

DES MOINES, Ia., April 24.—Excavations in the mound at Boone were completed yesterday and during the final stages of the excavations over 2,000 pieces of pottery were discovered bearing all sorts of marks and decorations and giving evidences of being many hundreds if not thousands of years old. The find so far as Curator Harlan of the historical department is able to ascertain is one of the richest in America and the excavation will be left some days so as to permit expert archaeologists to come and examine the finds if they wish.

The mound was one of the largest known. It was 190 feet long by 110 wide and raised 14 to 16 feet above the level of the surrounding ground. On top of it grew two elm trees and an oak of great size. Numerous clam shells of a species not now found in the river near by were found in the mound. Three or four feet under the surface of the mound was found a soil of unusual character. It was very dense and hard which it was impossible to penetrate with a pick.

As to the age of the mound, no one has yet been found to hazard a guess. For many years a dead man buried in the mound in 1850 has stood guard over it and prevented excavations. Relatives objected to his remains being moved. It was found that he had died of smallpox and the state law prohibited opening the grave. This was finally arranged, however, and the last legislature appropriated the money for the work.

PRIEST ACCUSES CHURCH OFFICERS

BIWAH, Minn., April 24.—Father Frank Saloven, priest in charge of the Aurora Catholic church, had John Gersick, treasurer, Stephen Paulovich, secretary, and Joe Zamisic and John Rozanc, trustees, arrested on a charge of assault and battery. The men were tried before Judge Salmon and a jury disagreement resulted.

Jan. 1, when a new set of officers were chosen, Father Saloven was notified that his compensation had been reduced, and after consulting with his superiors refused longer to hold mass. The new officers and other members of the congregation appealed to Bishop McGolrick at Duluth for another priest, but Father Saloven was commanded to resume pastoral charge of the church. He claims that the men came to the church after the sermon, interrupted a baptismal ceremony and then followed him into the vestry and compelled him to remain there for half an hour. He charged that they used force. The defendants testified that Father Saloven listened to them and supposed that they were parting the best of friends, being surprised when they were arrested.

Father Saloven insists that he will control the church, and that he will push the assault case, the retrial being set for April 30.

DES MOINES, Ia.—E. E. Johnson has been made chief of detectives under the new commissioners. He was formerly on the detective force and has the recommendations of a large number of business men.

ALLISON CLASH HELPS CUMMINS

PROGRESSIVE AND STAND-PAT MIXTURE STEAMS

LIBERAL LEADER CRITICISED

Stand Pat Element Strikes Blow at Partisans Who Ignore Their Faction

DES MOINES, Ia., April 24.—There are unmistakable evidences of friction in the management of Senator William B. Allison's candidacy for renomination to the United States senate and the friction may result in the defeat of the venerable senator for renomination. The evidences of friction are all direct from standpoint sources and unquestioned.

The first indication of the kind came a few days ago in the correspondence of Julian Richards. Richards was the standpoint candidate for the republican nomination for secretary of state two years ago and was defeated by Hayward. For years he has been the political correspondent for a number of newspapers. A few days ago he predicted a split in the Allison ranks claiming that Allison's managers were not making the fight they should. He said: "There is a possibility of a clash between the friends of Senator Allison. Everyone knows the senior United States senator is allied with the standpatters. His present campaign, however, is being managed along neutral lines. Mr. Adams, who was selected as chairman of the state Allison executive committee is a progressive. 'Joe' Lane, of Davenport, who is credited as being the Allison reader in the district, also is a progressive."

Mr. Richards then proceeds to point out that Adams is managing the campaign so as to try to get progressive votes for Allison, and is ignoring the standpatters.

The Daily Tribune, of this city, is a standpoint newspaper and Charles Heiken a standpatter and Allison man, is the editor. In a leading editorial he says: "If Senator Allison should be defeated in the primary election on June 2 it will be because of the fact that there has been placed in charge of his campaign a man of inexperience, who knows nothing about the game of politics, a man who has been out of harmony with that wing of the party with which Allison and his colleagues have been allied for years; a man who has not been in harmony with the chief supporters of the senator in Iowa and whose actions would indicate that he did not care for any such affiliation."

It is stated by leaders in close touch with the situation, however, that talk of intra-factional strife is a mere invention to promote distrust among the Allison forces that would help the Cummins faction.

TWO CLAIM GARBAGE JOB

MANKATO, Minn., April 24.—The city is in another mixup, having two garbage contractors at work. The council received bids for doing the work, picked out the third lowest bidder, awarded the contract to him and rejected the other bids. City Recorder Hodopp holds that the contract should have gone to the lowest bidder and has awarded the contract to him, approved his bond and announces that he will recognize and pay only him.

LAYS RUNAWAY TO DRINK.

CLINTON, Ia., April 24.—In the Clinton district court a peculiar case is on trial—Rose Reeder versus Theodore Peters, a De Witt saloon-keeper. The case, which is for $2,000 damages, follows the death of A. S. Reeder of De Witt, who was killed in a runaway several months ago. The plaintiff avers that he was killed while intoxicated, and that Peters sold him the drink. She accuses Peters of responsibility.

DESTROYS THE EVIDENCE.

BRECKENRIDGE, Minn., April 24.—Otto Zuehlisford of Foxhome, this county, who until the recent election when that village went dry owned a saloon there, is the defendant in a blind pig prosecution that has developed sensational interest because of the destruction of a piece of evidence by his attorney in open court. Last fall Zuehlisford was indicted on seven counts for selling liquor to minors and was convicted on trial, but the district judge set aside the verdict on a technicality.

Once More We Remind You That We Are GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

And we are determined to wind up our business without a dollar's worth of goods on hand. THE TIME IS SHORT, and urges us on to extreme measures. Of all the clothing sales you have attended in the past none ever presented greater opportunities for big money saving as you will find here tomorrow and every day up to the finish. There yet remains thousands of dollars' worth of goods in odds and ends and broken sizes. Besides many new goods have arrived the past few days which for certain reasons we are forced to keep. Every dollar's worth must be rapidly disposed of.

WE HAVE LOST SIGHT OF REAL VALUE AND COST

This is your opportunity to save big money on new stylish Spring and Summer Clothes.

The Hydrocurve Boat and Its Designer Carey A. Manker

The hydrocurve boat, a new invention by Mr. Manker, is destined to revolutionize navigation almost as radically as did Fulton's first steamboat. Mr. Manker has been working for years in scientific study and research to produce an entirely new shape of hull, which will glide over the water rather than through it. Mr. Manker, early in his experiments saw his task was to design a hull which will handle the water with the least possible expense of power commensurate with high speed. He began by increasing the "throw off" surface from one-third to the total length of the hull in contact with the water. The new longitudinal lines which thus differentiate the hydrocurve from all others express in diagram nature's law of accelerated motion. The water is moved at one-third the speed it is moved in the ordinary boat and handled according to its natural flow, every particle of water being set in motion gradually and handled with the least possible application of power. He has discarded Peter Cooper Hewitt's idea of gliding boats with outstretched wings and has produced the same gliding results with his hydrocurve hull. The real commercial importance of this boat was brought to the attention of the president during his recent trip down the Mississippi, in which Mr. Manker's boat served as messenger for the fleet. This little boat has frequently traveled at the rate of 40 knots an hour, and it is claimed it can even attain a speed of 70 knots an hour with sufficient power.

WISCONSIN NEWS

HOPKIN'S MOTHER THOUGHT HIM O. K.

PARENT OF MISSING BROKER GREATLY SURPRISED

IS NOW IN NEW YORK CITY

Mother Gets Letter Saying He Is There to Close Big and Profitable Deal.

APPLETON, Wis., April 24.—According to information received at the home of his mother in Appleton, Wallace H. Hopkins of the firm of Wallace H. Hopkins company, brokers of Milwaukee and Chicago, who has mysteriously disappeared, has gone to New York where he expects to remain until next Sunday.

Mr. Hopkins is a son of Mrs. A. D. Pardee, who received a letter from her son early in the week, in which he said he expected to go to New York to close up a mammoth deal in zinc. Mr. Hopkins did not intimate that he was in financial straits, and in practically all of his recent letters to his mother he related his successes, telling of several instances where he cleared from $2,000 to $8,000 in a day.

He has often visited in Appleton and is well known here. A large number of Appleton men traded with Mr. Hopkins' branch office at Oshkosh and all had utmost confidence in him. As far as can be learned none of the Appleton traders have lost anything except as they happened to get onto the wrong side of the market.

When seen at his home here A. C. Pardee said:

"It is all a great surprise to me. I have always had reason to believe that Wallace was remarkable successful in his brokerage business. His business has expanded wonderfully in the last year or so, and I know of at least a dozen offices that he has in this and other states. I had heard nothing of his financial troubles until I saw it in the news-papers and know nothing of his present whereabouts except as he stated in a letter written early in the week that he expected to go to New York to remain until next Sunday."

FOREST FIRES ARE STILL RAGING

WAUSAU, Wis., April 24.—Most fires are entirely surrounded by bush fires which the inhabitants are fiercely fighting from within and which hundreds of men from here who answered the call of Mayor Lamont are battling from without.

The Lutheran church on the outskirts of the village has already been destroyed, in addition to the immense loss in timber pine, consumed by the forest fires first reported in this morning's dispatches.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP MAN AND WOMAN

BOTTLE OF POWDER PLACED IN AUFRECHT'S RIG

BOTH ARE SEVERELY INJURED

Madison Man Recently Divorced Tells Police That he Suspects Numerous Enemies

MADISON, Wis., April 24.—Some unknown person placed a bottle filled with powder, nails and other missiles and with a lighted fuse attached, in a buggy in which Fred Aufrecht and a woman companion were riding in the eastern part of the city.

The explosion severely injured Aufrecht and his companion and wrecked the buggy, but both will recover. Aufrecht recently divorced and tells the police he has several enemies whom he suspects of attempting to take his life.

In order to drop the "bomb" into the buggy it was necessary to lift a light cover. This indicates that whoever did the job went about the work quietly, as Aufrecht heard no suspicious sound until the explosion occurred. The horse was jogging along slowly so that it was an easy matter to sneak up from behind and put in the bottle.

AMERICAN LABOR HAS NO JUSTICE

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The United States bureau of labor believes the foreign workman is better protected in case of injury than his American comrade. This is embodied in a special report made public today. "The impossibility of adequately securing to workman," says Lindley D. Clark, discussing the United States common law, "the needed protection by a mere grant of right of action for injuries for which the employer can rightly be charged is only too evident from the discussion of principles of the law that is applicable; practically every foreign country of importance industrially, has by legislation recognized the principle that a workman is entitled to compensation for injuries received in the course of his employment. In every case the exact compensation is fixed by law." In none of the twenty-two foreign countries does ordinary negligence of injured persons work forfeiture of right of compensation.

The Wrong Tense.—Dorothea's father was sitting before a window in his country house with Dorothea on his knees. He was looking across the fields with unseeing eyes, when the lassie broke in on his reverie with, "What are you looking at, papa?" "I was looking into the future, my dear." "The future, papa! I thought it was into the pasture!"

WINONA DOOMED TO ICE FAMINE

WINONA, Minn., April 24.—Winona is doomed to an ice famine this summer. On account of the small amount of ice put up last winter the local dealers already are cutting off customers. Only the business and central residence district are being served, and people who have been taking ice for years are complaining bitterly because they cannot get ice. The situation promises to become extremely unpleasant when the hot days of summer arrive.

With Intent of Not?

She lives on Emerson street; he lives a few blocks further east. She had a birthday recently, and he gave her a fine hand mirror as a present. She was delighted.

"I'm glad you like it," he said. "Think of me once in a while when you use it, will you?"

"Yes, indeed," she replied. "I'll think of you every time I use it."

"Oh," he said, "you don't have to think of me all the time."

Somewhat or other she didn't quite like that reply.—Denver Post.

Yours at Last—An Auto!

But What'll You Do With the Family Surrey?

Because you can afford an auto it doesn't follow that you can afford to have a good family surrey or buggy standing in the shed as dead capital. You'd better convert it into hard cash as quickly as you can. It may come in handy for repairs on the auto. And remember this; the longer it stands idle, the more the paint will peel, the more the rust will corrupt, the shabbier it will look, and the cheaper you will have to sell it. Another thing—if you have a vivid memory of what you put out for it, and don't want it to go as charity—by all means don't be compelled to sell it to your neighbors or your relatives. You'll get the short end of it. They always expect a big discount on friendship. You'll be obliged to give it to them because they happen to know some of your little foibles and short comings. AUTO BUSINESS GOOD IN WEST

Automobile manufacturers are turning their eyes to the Pacific coast and the west generally, as the best fields for the sale of their product this season. People in the west have money to spend and they are putting lots of it into motor cars.

Roy D. Chapin, treasurer and general manager of the E. R. Thomas Detroit company, who has just returned from an extended trip, has this to say of the western market: "The outlook for business on the coast is better than it ever was before and all of the manufacturers of high grade cars are doing more business there than was done during the past season. Through the central west, from Chicago to Salt Lake City, the automobile business is probably in a more flourishing condition than it is in any portion of the country.

Upon his return to Detroit, Mr. Chapin found manufacturing facilities at the Thomas Detroit plant considerably increased, a night shift being added to the already large day force. A large number of Thomas Detroit Forty cars will be shipped westward within a few weeks.

GROCCERS ENDORSE A MODIFIED LAW

RESOLUTION EXEMPTS ARTICLES FROM RULE

SANITARY IDEA IS DEFINED

Resolution Also Aims at Peddlers of Fruits in Carts, Etc.—Pass New Constitution

At a special meeting of the Retail Grocers' association last night the action of the organization in endorsing the proposed ordinance forbidding the display of fruits and vegetables on the sidewalks was reconsidered, and a resolution recommending material amendments to the ordinance, but commending its general purposes, was passed, a small minority dissenting.

Pursuant to the resolution, a committee of five was appointed to appear before the proper council committee and present the views of the association relative to the ordinance. As directed by the resolution a copy of the resolution was furnished the mayor and city clerk by Recording Secretary Wenslow today.

The new constitution, recently passed, was ordered suspended, and a new constitution incorporating a number of amendments will be drawn. The changes provided were carried at last night's meeting, so the new constitution is practically in effect now.

Exempts Some Articles

The new resolution was drafted by President Murray, and was in the nature of a concession to members who regarded the original ordinance as too drastic. It incorporates a clause indicating that it is aimed at cart fruit peddlers, and is drawn so as to eliminate from the operation of the ordinance such fruits and vegetables as grocers believe will not be injured by exposure in the streets. The resolution reads as follows:

The Resolution

Whereas, at a meeting of the common council of the city of La Crosse held some two months ago, his honor, Mayor Wendell A. Anderson submitted a communication recommending the passage of an ordinance regulating the sale of fruits, vegetables, meat and other foodstuffs exhibited for sale on sidewalks when exposed, and

Whereas, the retail grocers sell approximately ninety per cent of the fruits and vegetables consumed in the city that are sold at retail and for a long time past have been aware that hawkers, vendors and street peddlers have sold apples, berries of every description, native and California fruits from wagons, that had been used the day before for hauling offal, rubbish, rags, etc., and very often this rubbish, rags, etc., contained worms, bugs and germs that might possibly contaminate such fruit with filth and disease, and

Whereas, we, the retail grocers of La Crosse believe that the sale of apples, berries of every kind, all fruits such as plums, peaches, pears, apricots, etc., should not be allowed sold on the streets or sidewalks when exposed, and

Whereas, we see no harm in the hanging out of bananas or the placing on benches or tables on the sidewalks exposed for sale of oranges, lemons or any fruit from which the skin must be removed to be consumed, and

Whereas, we know of no good reason why potatoes, cabbage, rutabagas, turnips, carrots, beets, dry onions and all other vegetables that are usually boiled to a certain degree of heat before the same are consumed, should not be placed on the sidewalks exposed for sale, provided, however, that the same are placed on benches or tables about two feet high so as to protect the same from dogs, now therefore, be it

What It Affects.

Resolved, by the La Crosse Retail Grocers' association, that we heartily approve of the recommendation and effort of his honor, Mayor Anderson suggesting the importance for public health the passage of an ordinance prohibiting the exposing for sale on the sidewalks of the city of apples, berries of every kind, such as strawberries, blackberries, blueberries, gooseberries, currants, grapes, etc., and of all kinds of fruits except oranges, lemons and bananas (when attached to the stalk), as those fruits have to be peeled before eaten; and be it further

Resolved, that we know of no legitimate reason so far as public health is concerned why the exhibiting for sale exposed of potatoes, rutabagas, turnips, water melons, carrots, dry onions, beets and all other vegetables that require to be boiled to a certain degree of heat before the same is eaten, should be prohibited, provided however that the same should be placed on benches and tables at least two feet high so as not to be exposed to dogs, and be it further

Resolved, that we heartily commend the mayor in his efforts to clean up the city and establish the best sanitary conditions for our people.

We believe that it is not conducive to the best sanitary conditions to allow hawkers, vendors and street peddlers to one day use their vehicle for hauling offal, rubbish, old rags, etc., which have been collected from houses where there have been cases of diphtheria, scarlet fever, smallpox and tuberculosis, etc., and next day without disinfecting such vehicle peddle therefrom berries, apples, grapes, cherries and all other local and California fruits, and be it further

Resolved, that a committee of five be appointed by the chair whose duty it shall be to appear before the proper committee of the common council when notified by such committee that they are about to con-

Suspension Scares Shorts

NEW YORK, April 24.—News of the suspension of the T. A. McIntyre company had a direct effect on the markets, inducing heavy covering by the shorts. The heaviest buying was in steel common in the last four days and is said to have been covering of the shorts. Prices for the more active speculative issues generally showed gains ranging from about a half to one point. London was a moderate buyer on the arbitrage account. Government bonds were unchanged, others strong.

GOSSIP OF THE PIT.

Crop Conditions.

Modern Miller: General and beneficial rains have relieved drought conditions in Kansas and Nebraska, reports from these states show a generally good healthy growth of winter wheat. In the more eastern states rains are still frequent and advances that the plant is turning yellow are increasing. This is generally ascribed to excessive moisture, but in Missouri and Illinois some farmers believe it is due to insects which have appeared in numbers in the fields. No damage is reported, however.

Kansas City: In a letter to Moss Grain Co. from Houston Grain Co. of Gen. Kansas, dated the 22nd, it is stated: It is very dry and windy here, and wheat is badly damaged; some fields 50 per cent, while some late wheat is not hurt to speak of.

Another from Holdrede, Neb., of the 22nd, to Moss Grain Co., says: We are getting numerous complaints as to the condition of wheat; right here have had but little rain and its effect was soon dissipated; at points where it was heavier the benefit seems to have been only temporary and complaints are coming from there, also north of us about eight miles, where last year there was a heavy hailstorm and considerable precipitation, reports that wheat is looking fine.

Grain Opinions.

Chicago—Ware Leland says: We think it is good judgment to advise the acceptance of profits in wheat on further up-turns.

Finley Barrell Co. say: The situation in a nut shell is this: We appear to be long for the present of scenery and short of available wheat and unless Argentine shipments increase very materially foreigners will be forced to come to this country for supplies in the very near future, which will mean very much higher prices.

Young Popperton—Wife has gone shopping and left me in charge of the baby, and I am regularly put to it to know how to keep the little fellow quiet. Grimshaw (after regarding the howling and cooing juvenile critically)—I should think you could easily keep him quiet, both in a vocal and physical way, by gagging him carefully, tying his hands behind his back, binding his feet together, nailing his clothes to the floor, and then administering chloroform to him.—London Tri-Bits.

Your friends may sometimes act mad because you do not come and see them, but they are not as mad as they seem.

Resolved further, that recording secretary furnish the mayor and clerk with a copy of this preamble and resolutions.

LABOR THREAT IS CAUSE OF WORRY

CONGRESSMEN FEAR SOMETHING "UP ITS SLEEVE"

SOME COUP IS PLANNED

Purposes of Organized Workmen will Not be Known Until Conventions End

Washington Bureau of The La Crosse Tribune WASHINGTON, D. C., April 24. (By J. C. Welliver.)

That organized labor has something up its sleeve, which is not to be expected till after the adjournment of congress, and that then it will only be hinted at, rather than shown, until after the national conventions are over, is the intimation which, circulating in political circles, is causing much interest among politicians.

Labor to be Reckoned With The feeling that organized labor is liable to cut a real figure in the elections this year is very strong. It is known that a vast deal of organizing and educational effort has been made in the last two years, with the purpose always to making a real showing in the coming presidential contest. Report recently circulated is that the labor leaders are determined on these things:

Their Plan To use their influence to the utmost everywhere to secure the election of a democratic majority in the house.

To base their plea to their own people on the claim that so long as the house is republican there will be no chance of effective reorganization of its committees in such fashion as to make them more friendly to labor. To keep hands off the presidential election, in a large way, unless one or other of the two parties names a candidate who is especially objectionable to labor.

To get very busy hereafter in local politics in those states where there is a chance to cause the defeat of senators who have not been satisfactory to labor.

House Members Uneasy

Members of the house of representatives are the people who just now are doing most of the perspiring about the attitude of labor. They have heard that special attention is to be devoted to them, and are anxiously keeping their records straight on all matters in which labor is interested. But the fact that the house management is not going to allow many of these matters to come to a final vote is responsible for some doubts as to how far labor will decide to be mollified.

HARVARD WINS FROM NAVY CREW

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 24.—By not a full half length of their shell Wednesday the naval academy crew lost to Harvard's eight oared crew one of the most interesting and spectacular races ever rowed over the two mile course on the Severn river. The time was: Harvard, 10:30; navy, 10:32.

The record for the course over which the race was rowed is about one minute faster than this, but while the contest today was slow in time and for the first mile a waiting race it was, nevertheless, a beautiful one from the standpoint of the spectators.

On account of the tide and wind Harvard preferred to row up the Severn instead of against the whitecaps. This the navy agreed to. It was a few seconds after 4:45 when the crews answered the referee's command.

LATONIA RACETRACK SAVED IN COURTS

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 24.—The Latonia Agricultural association, which operates the Latonia race track, won its fight with the city of Latonia, the court of Appeals deciding that the city cannot build streets through the race track. The case has been in the courts for several years. The city claimed that years ago the property occupied by the race track had been dedicated to the city, but the court holds that as it had never followed up the dedication with any act indicating its purpose to build streets, it cannot now claim the right.

WOMEN AS JUDGES AT LEXINGTON

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 24.—The Kentucky association had glorious weather, a good track and an attendance of 3,000 for the opening of its spring race meeting. Three outsiders won.

Charles F. Price, presiding judge, had for associates during the first four races Mrs. John C. Ten Eycke of New York and Mrs. Henry Oliver of Pittsburg, the former a granddaughter of Gen. John C. Breckenridge and the latter a daughter of Gen. James F. Robinson, each at one time president of the Kentucky association. It is probably the first time in the history of racing in this country where women acted as judges.

There's something startling in the wind we can't tell you of today—or we'd lose "our" job. But—a few hours hence—if you'll watch out you'll see us Liberate This Cat From the Bag!

DOERFLINGER'S

FEW MEN DO THEMSELVES JUSTICE UNLESS THEY ARE WELL DREST:

This opinion was expressed by a well known specialist in nervous and mental diseases.

"A good suit of clothes," he said, "acts as a splendid tonic upon most of us. The mere fact of being smartly dressed is a strong mental stimulant, and the man who is shabby, and knows it, is often less capable than his well-dressed mental inferior."

"To the average man, shabby or ill-fitting clothes are a source of constant worry which frets away his energy and takes the keener edge off his wits."

"The general impression is, I think, a true one—that the man in a disgraceful hat, baggy-kneed trousers and a shocking coat who can appear quite self-possessed among a number of smartly-dressed people is either a millionaire or a man of extraordinary brain-power."

"Few men can get along successfully in life without the mental support of good clothing." Good clothing need not be expensive clothing.

The Doerflinger Clothing Store for Men & Young Chaps furnishes an all wool hand tailored summer suit for as little $7.50

Or you may pay pay $10, $12, $15, $18 and up to $25 for the finest ready-to-wear clothes produced in America today. Good clothing means as good as you can afford and as good as you pay for.

FORREST GIVE N A BAD BEATING

BALTIMORE, Md., April 24.—Young Britt of this city Wednesday night gave Eddie Forrest of Philadelphia the worst lecture that has been handed out to a pugilist in this city for many a day. The contest lasted but a round and a half and in this time Britt made a veritable chopping block out of his opponent. Forrest's seconds threw up the sponge just as the police jumped into the ring to stop the contest. The bout took place before the Arena club.
